Overview

Started in 2012, the APC Senior High School program was designed to open doors of opportunities to work and, later on, pursue a college degree after two years. In consortium with Don Bosco Schools and TVET Centers, and the Manila Times College, Asia Pacific College was first among the few Private Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) and the only HEI who offered the Academic Track. The Program welcomes every deserving student from all formal and non-formal Junior High School institutions.

Asia Pacific College, in partnership with the Information Technology and Business Process Association of the Philippines (IBPAP), is working hand-in-hand with the Department of Education (DepEd) and Commission on Higher Education (CHED) in bringing a better future to the Filipino youth. Graduates of APC Senior High School can find work in over 200 member companies of IBPAP offering a wide range of professional jobs at an entry-level for voice and non-voice sectors, Information Technology and other support functions.

The Senior High School mini-courses are also aligned to the degree programs of the college which would pave their way to pursue higher education.

Being the G11 and G12 delivery HEI, Asia Pacific College continues to reach and extend stronger ties to its neighboring DepEd Divisions as its feeder schools and to its partner work industries as the internship host companies. Moreover, APC partners with funding organization to aid the financial needs of the students through a grant scholarship.

Indeed, APC continues to be the emblem of real projects where real learnings happen.

Last April 30, 2012, a Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) was signed by representatives from BPA/P, Department of Education (DepEd), and the consortium of Asia Pacific College (APC), Don Bosco Schools and TVET Centers (Don Bosco), and The Manila Times College (TMTC) to offer Senior High School

Alvarez Foundation signed a MOA with APC to grant scholarship to the new batch of Senior High School, S.Y. 2014-2016.

L-R: Ma. Teresita P. Medado and Dr. Paulino Y. Tan of APC and Abigail Alvarez and Amparo Valero of Alvarez Foundation.

Testimonials

“Having the opportunity to study at APC was a big blessing for me. APC has made me not only become a strong and better person but also knowledgeable of a lot of new things that are very important in life. I find our subjects really advanced and that I have to push myself further to cope with the lessons... I know now that I have improved a lot because of these learning experiences. Thanks APC for giving me the opportunity to learn and inspire others as well.”

- Gremio Rex, Grade 12

“We are aiming to be professionals someday and that is what we are being trained for... As one of the scholars and a model student of APC Senior High School, I am very thankful and blessed with the opportunity that was given to me. I am looking forward for more opportunities and open doors as I go along the career pathway that I have chosen. I just have to give my best to everything I do and never neglect my responsibilities as a student. By so doing, I know that everything is possible and that I will be successful in the future.”

- Nikko Ducot, Grade 12

“APC Senior High School helped me develop and improve my communication skills and well as in computer technology. Internship has translated all my learnings into work. I thank APC for helping me finish my studies and fulfill my dream.”

- Angelita Ducay, Senior High Graduate

“Entering Senior High School of Asia Pacific College turned my little dreams into bigger achievements. We studied and learned how work looks like in the real world. Our industry professors helped us understand and prepared us for our career life in the future. Internship has made all learnings and preparations in school a reality”
